

National Touring Exhibition

The Amulet

Exploring the Hidden World of Infant Loss

www.amulets.ie

‘The exhibition had a hushed quiet presence... It was so well thought through. It really asks a lot of you. I really felt a connection, felt part of something.’

Bereaved parent who collaborated with the artist

You are warmly invited to the launch of the National Touring Exhibition

The Amulet

Exploring the Hidden World of Infant Loss with artist Marie Brett

Official Launch & Panel Discussion

Wednesday 15 October 6pm

Cork City Hall Atrium

with guest speaker Dr. Ed Krčma, History of Art, University College Cork

exhibition runs

Monday 13 October – Friday 28 November

and

Tuesday 14 – Friday 24 October

Bishopstown Library, Wilton, Cork

Tuesday 4 November – Saturday 3 January

Cork Public Museum, Fitzgerald Park, Cork

Official Launch & Panel Discussion

Wednesday 15 October 6pm

Cork City Hall Atrium

The artist Marie Brett will join bereaved parents with Maeve Dineen of Cork City Arts Office, UCC Lecturer and Doctor of Nursing student School of Nursing & Midwifery Margaret Murphy and CUMH Bereavement & Loss Midwife Anna Maria Verling in a discussion chaired by Edelle Nolan CUH Arts Coordinator.

All are welcome. Refreshments will be served. FREE

For more visit: www.amulets.ie www.mariebrett.ie or on facebook: www.facebook.com/AmuletProject

This event will be of interest to artists working collaboratively or in social/community contexts, bereaved parents, healthcare, bereavement and arts professionals and students of arts, healthcare, humanities and social sciences.

Image: 8.2.92 Anamnesis (detail) photograph by Marie Brett Design: edit+